

ALL QUIET NOW AT CASS' LAKE

Indians Have Disappeared, the Dispatches Say.

ARE SUPPOSED TO HAVE SCATTERED.

More Troops To Be Called From Fort Snelling, and Minnesota Volunteers May Be Sent to the Front—Correspondents Are Still Missing—Desultory Firing Heard Last Night—No Confirmation of Massacre Story—Dispatches Expected.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—[Special]—3 p. m.—Watchers around town last night report this morning that signal lights were flashing back and forth on the opposite shore of the lake last night, and they are fearful that large bodies of Indians from other reservations have reached the Pillager camp during the night.

The situation today is one of nervous anticipation.

The tug Flora left this morning to bring General Bacon and his men, and pending the return there will probably be nothing done.

Indians say both sides rested today with fair prospects of resuming hostilities again tomorrow, unless the Indians surrender in the meantime or make overtures of peace. Beaulieu, the interpreter, is confident that they will ask for terms of peace.

Minneapolis, Oct. 7.—[Special]—In view of late dispatches from Cass Lake the governor has decided not to call the militia out.

Minneapolis Oct. 7.—[Special]—The latest news from Cass Lake is to the effect that the Indians have all disappeared from that vicinity, and all is quiet. The people of Deer River are greatly disturbed, and arms and ammunition have been asked for.

Three more companies at Fort Snelling have been ordered to prepare for service at once. The calling out of a battalion of Minnesota volunteers has also been authorized.

Expect the News.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—[Special]—A special from Walker says that a dispatch boat is expected from Bear Island at any moment with news of yesterday's engagement between the troops and the Indians. Desultory firing has been going on all night, and it is now believed that the Indians have retreated further inland.

General Bacon's force is still thought to be in the position taken yesterday. The Indians at the agency are ugly because of the accidental killing of one of their number.

The soldiers have now been under fire for fifty hours.

The three correspondents, Brill, Beuten and Knapp, have not been heard from and their fate is still unknown.

No word has been received from Washington in answer to the governor's appeal for aid.

A report is current here that the Indians have abandoned their positions and scattered, but it cannot be verified.

Nothing has been heard from Cass Lake, where the massacre was feared, since morning. Whether or not the Indians carried out their threat to wreck the train due here at 5 o'clock and not been heard up to 9:30 o'clock this morning, the hour when this dispatch was written.

Think It Fortunate.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 6.—[Special]—The fight at Bear Island on Leech Lake is regarded there by those well informed upon Indian character as a fortunate occurrence, for it will lead to the adoption of measures which will prevent a repetition of the massacre of 1862 during which so many settlers lost their lives at the hands of the blood-thirsty Sioux. The Chippewas, who are the offenders at this time are a more intelligent but less blood-thirsty than the Sioux. They are well advanced in civilization, and are better acquainted with the power of the whites than were the rebels of this former war. It is believed that after registering their protest against what they regard the unwarrantable interference of the whites in this concern, will submit to authority.

Marshal O'Connor, who is reported wounded, is a native of St. Paul and a man of undoubted bravery. His chief duty, Tim Sheehan, has had charge of matters concerning the Indians that have come within the purview of the marshal's office for nearly a decade. He brave and cool headed, and although only seventy years old is physically perfect. He understands Indian character thoroughly, and in order of times much influence with the redskins.

In case of emergency a company of a hundred who served against the Sioux in 1862, could be raised in this city in twenty-four hours.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 7.—The alarm is increasing every moment. We are so fearful that they look an attack to be made on Cass Lake in an hour or so.

Side report passing small parties of Indians fully armed and looking like Indians. One explorer has just come who saw a dozen armed Indians in one bunch. It is thought that they are going to a common point of mobilization.

A united request has been wired to Gov. Clough for arms and ammunition for 200 citizens and for troops to follow as soon as possible.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—Owing to the excitement of the last forty-eight hours no lists of names of the dead at Bear Island have been brought in by the steamers Flora and Chief. Maj. Melville Carey Wilkinson, in command of company E, Third regiment United States Infantry, was killed at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon by a shot from a Winchester in the hands of a Pillager Indian. The bullet struck him in the region of the navel and passed through his body. In the first assault at 11 o'clock in the morning Maj. Wilkinson was wounded in the leg while exhorting his men to stand firm. He retired and had the leg bandaged and returned to his place at the head of his men.

A friendly Indian who has come in here by way of Lathrop says the soldiers killed were Sergt. Leroy Ayers and Privates Ziobel, Boucher, Ziegler and Harrigan, but his statement has not been confirmed.

Nine soldiers of companies E, H and F were wounded, but their names have not yet been learned. The wounds of two of the men are very serious, one of them having a bullet in his left lung and the other being shot in the groin.

It is claimed that several of the soldiers were armed with shotguns, having gone into the Leech Lake country under the impression that they would have to shoot nothing but geese, ducks and partridges, and expecting to come home before the end of the week with large bags of game.

The fight Thursday was of short duration, occurring shortly after 9 o'clock. There were, so far as known, no casualties. The Pillagers still shoot from the dense timber with Winchester and appear to be well supplied with ammunition.

Gen. Bacon and his command have taken up a position on the mainland east of Bear Island. They are now entrenched and in no immediate danger, unless hostile Indians should attack them from the north. Owing to unexpected delays the reinforcements from Fort Snelling did not arrive until 4 o'clock Thursday, and they were not able to give Gen. Bacon any assistance.

Lieut. Col. Harbach, in command, has 215 men and officers, his force being made up from seven companies of the Third Infantry. A Gatling gun is in charge of Company I. An extra supply of 4,000 rounds of ammunition is on the train.

The rumor that Cass Lake, the agency town, would be attacked is probably incorrect. Such an act would be suicidal. The Indians on this side of Leech Lake are peaceable in both talk and action. If stirred up, however, they would kill every soldier in this section in twenty-four hours. There are 9,954 Chippewas of the various tribes in Minnesota, and a very large part of them are located within fifty miles of this place. The Pillagers have never allowed a church or a school on Bear Island, and spend most of their time hunting, fishing and talking about annihilating the whites. In 1888 each of them was given a farm of 160 acres, but most of them have been too lazy to till the land.

Cass Lake, Minn., Oct. 7.—Three rangers from the Pillager band of Indians who ambushed Gen. Bacon's regulars at Bear Island point Wednesday passed through here during last night. From the little information that can be got here their mission is represented to have been merely to spread information. The Indians from the Cass Lake villages report that the Pillagers withdrew after the close of the assault on Gen. Bacon's force. How far back from the shore the Pillagers have retired cannot be learned. The runners are said to have told their Cass Lake brothers that they killed eighteen regulars and deputy marshals. Nothing can be learned from the Indian loss except that it was claimed that none were killed.

Heroism During the Fight.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—The battle of Leech Lake has developed more than one hero. Gen. Bacon, Maj. Wilkinson, Lieut. Ross, Surg. Harris, Hospital Steward Buckhart, Sergt. Butler, Frank Briggs and Marshal Sheehan are all deserving of medals of honor, the three former for the gallant manner in which they led the troops, the fourth for his inattention to his wounds when bullets were flying about his head and his apparent indifference to them, the fifth for volunteering to carry messages across the firing line from Lieut. Ross to Gen. Bacon and losing his life in an effort to rejoin his men, and the sixth for bravery displayed on several occasions.

Washington Is Notified.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Secretary Bliss informed the war department by telephone Thursday that he had received a dispatch from Indian Agent Tinker stating that a boat had just arrived from the scene of the Indian disturbances in Minnesota, reporting that Major Wilkinson, one sergeant and six privates had been killed. The deputy marshal was wounded and an Indian police officer killed. The dispatch also stated that the 200 troops on the way to the scene were not enough.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN IS OPENED AND SUCCESS NOW ASSURED

Senator Spooner Makes a Ringing Plea.

STATES FACTS THAT CANNOT BE GAINSAID.

Shall the Democratic Free Silver Crowd Rule Wisconsin, or Shall President McKinley Be Endorsed by a Rousing Republican Majority in the Badger State—Ex-Senator Sawyer Says the Majority Will Be Thirty Thousand.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 7.—The republican campaign in Wisconsin was formally opened last night by United States Senator Spooner in a speech full of splendid material and hard logic which the democratic orators will not be able to refute. Notwithstanding the dreary rain that prevailed all the afternoon and evening, there was not an empty seat at the Turner hall, which has a seating capacity of nearly 2,500. On the stage sat many prominent Milwaukee republicans, and several hundred among them were from other parts of the state.

Former Senator Philletus Sawyer of Oshkosh, Senator Withee of La Crosse, Senator McGilivray of Black River Falls, Congressman Sauerhager of Mayville, Fish and Game Warden Ellerson of Wautoma; Superintendent Landt of Sparta; Railroad Commissioner McKenzie of Alma, Richard Guenther of Oshkosh; G. W. Bishop of Rhineland, N. B. Treat of Monroe, Col. J. J. Esch of La Crosse, W. W. Chadwick of Monroe, and A. E. Thompson, of Oshkosh, Congressman Barney, C. I. Hooker of Waupun, E. E. Finney of the Northern hospital, George Buckstaff of Oshkosh, M. C. Ring of Neillsville, Assemblyman Wheeler and Senator Whitehead of Janesville and Senator Pierce of Germania.

Mr. Quarles Chairman.

Joseph V. Quarles, chairman, called the meeting to order in a short address, setting forth in brief the main issues of the campaign, which were:

"Shall the conservative state of Wisconsin fall into the silver column by electing Sawyer governor, or shall President McKinley and his policy be endorsed?"

Senator Spooner was received with an outburst of enthusiastic cheering. He took up the national issues by comparing the condition of things now with that which prevailed two years ago, and proved by facts and figures that the great business improvement, notwithstanding the war, was due to republican tariff legislation, and the preservation of the sound dollar. He pictured the state of discontent and lack of confidence that prevailed two years ago, the closed factories, the failing banks, the railroads in the hands of courts, and the shrinkage during the Cleveland administration of the bank deposits to the amount of nearly $24,000,000, and ascribed the causes of the memorable panic to the sudden reversal of a great industrial policy, which had been in operation for so many years, by the passage of the Wilson tariff.

The Gold Democrats.

"Confidence was shaken: the money power, as essential to labor as labor is to it, became doubtful as to the stability of the money standard, and enterprise and industry ceased, when the populists and demagogues came to the front with their platform at the Chicago convention," said the speaker.

Senator Spooner paid a high tribute to Gen. Briggs, former Senator Vilas and other prominent gold democrats, who deserted their party for principle, and he appealed to all gold democrats in general not to vote this year for what they had rejected as dishonest two years ago. Figures as to the gold reserve, the bank deposits, and the increase in wages were used effectively to illustrate the restoration of confidence and the return of prosperity, and the record of the republican national administration for the past two years was reviewed in detail, which went to show that the pledges made in the platform at St. Louis had all been carried out.

Endorse the Governor.

The speaker then described the duties in which President McKinley had to devote his thoughts and brain since the beginning of the war and the delicate questions and problems which he frequently was called upon to solve.

The passage devoted to the president of the United States was a masterful eulogy, which the senator wound up with an appeal to the people of the state to repay his services to the country and show their gratitude by electing him in the next congress, and re-electing him president in 1900. Governor Scofield was strongly endorsed.

Clough Appeals to Alger.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—Gov. Clough has received information which leads him to fear there is danger of a general uprising of the Indians, and has just telegraphed Secretary Alger asking him to authorize the use of the volunteer regiment just about to be disbanded, for the protection of the frontier.

Boynton dwelt upon the causes of disease at Camp Thomas, charging the increase toward the close of the camp to the lack of sufficient care on the part of the regimental and brigade commanders in covering the sinks. Gen. Lee detailed the conditions prevailing at the camp at Jacksonville. He said the site was a good one, the supplies were plentiful, the men well taken care of, and he had no complaint to make of the war department's treatment of his command.

THE TRANS-MISSISSIPPI EXPOSITION AT OMAHA—SCENE AT THE INDIAN CONGRESS. From HARPER'S WEEKLY.

AFTER A DRAWING BY W. A. ROGERS. Reproduced from Harper's Weekly. By Permission. Copyright, 1898, by Harper & Brothers.

The Trans-Mississippi exposition means so much and proves so much that it ranks very closely with the Columbian Exposition as a revelation to the visitor.

One of the most interesting features of the exposition, to an eastern man is the congress of Indians, which was brought together at the fair through the aid and co-operation of the government.

All the principal tribes are represented, from the Apaches of the southwest to the Assiniboin and Sioux of the north. An Indian on foot is generally a rather dignified person, but a six foot warrior sitting back almost on the haunches of a disconsolate little pony is about the most ludicrous sight imaginable. Our illustration, for which we are indebted to Harper's Weekly, shows a scene at the Indian congress.

Many of the Indians from a distance brought their savage belongings in new tin trunks, and an ancient earthen water-jar rolled up against a new four-dollar trunk seemed to strike the sense of humor of most of the visitors. But the greatest contrast furnished by the Indian encampment is with the exposition buildings. Here is a tract of land which, up to a year and a half ago, was never disturbed by anything, except a cornplough, since prehistoric times.

Over it, no doubt, many of the older Indians now on the exposition grounds spent their boyhood days, shooting at birds and gophers with their bows and arrows.

Today, towering around them are gilded domes, wonderful reproductions and adaptations of the architectural art of the Greeks and Romans, and exhibits of industrial arts such as the world never saw until the four great American expositions of the present decade.

To that particular class of persons who insist that the Americans are not an artistic people such an achievement as this—the building of a mimic city of the utmost grandeur and beauty, on this old hunting ground of forty years ago and corn field of two years back—ought to be a sufficient answer. Speaking of American art, it has shown itself in the past few years in an unexpected direction. Foreigners usually tell us that it is impossible for art to flourish here in these days, because this is the age and the country of invention and mechanics.

The people of the trans-Mississippi states have cause to be proud of this exposition of their success in developing the agricultural and mineral resources of the western plains and mountains. They have much to show the president of the United States when he comes to visit the fair, much to make him feel a deeper pride in his exalted station.

W. A. ROGERS.

ditions by baptisms were 1,039; 209 churches report having raised for all purposes $178,527, of which sum $26,745 was for charity. The board of missions employed last year thirty-one pastors, four district missionaries, six students and one general missionary. Of these, twenty-six were English speaking, twelve Swedish, and four Norwegian. The American missionaries baptized 140 persons, the Swedes forty, and others one, making a total of 181.

Members of the executive board were elected as follows: Rev. Granger W. Smith, Green Bay; Rev. S. E. Price, Milwaukee; B. F. Dunwiddie, Janesville; Rev. H. W. Reed, La Crosse. Association members: Rev. C. H. Henningson, La Crosse, for the Dane and Norwegian work; Rev. A. C. Kempton, Janesville; Rev. P. W. Longfellow, Eau Claire; Rev. H. Hoppie, Fond du Lac; Rev. J. Clark, Rhinelander; Rev. A. LeGrand, La Crosse.

Rev. E. E. Dresser, of Chippewa Falls, was selected to preach the annual sermon next year, and Rev. S. E. Price, of Milwaukee, was chosen alternate.

The question of selecting a place for the next meeting was left with the board. Invitations were received from the churches of La Crosse, Green Bay, and West Superior. Among the speakers today were Mrs. E. H. Griffith and Mrs. W. H. Dietz, of Chicago, Miss Alma Simmons, of Burmah, Rev. E. W.

Hog cholera is the specter that haunts Milton farmers just now, as the dread disease approaches nearer, daily. While to date there have been no losses in this township, the disease is prevalent in adjoining towns. Some farmers are disposing of all their hogs, even to small pigs, and for those only receive two cents per pound.

The Congregational church and society with invited guests, gave a reception to their new pastor and his wife Tuesday evening at the church parlors. A lunch was served and the occasion was a pleasurable one for both entertainers and entertained.

his time to the business is enthusiastic over the prospects.

"We have the advantage of eastern button manufacturers in the matter of freights," said Mr. Winslow. "When the shells are rough they must pay freight on stock that is 80 per cent waste. They realize this and are buying very few shells. In a year the shipments of rough shells will come to an end. Here is what will be shipped instead, and he held up a round bit of shell about the size of a thick gun wad.

"We take the rough shell and saw out all the blanks that are fit to use. This means that we can ship out in a dry goods box all the available material from a car load of shells or we can sort the blanks and give each concern just the kind wanted.

One advantage we will have over any other western factory is in the size of buttons we can manufacture. The Mississippi river shells are so small that nothing bigger than a size 24 button is manufactured. There is a great demand for larger sizes and the southern Wisconsin shells cut large buttons to good advantage. We shall be able to cut as high as No. 70, a button that is now supplied to the American trade from Paris at fancy prices."

The rough clam shell is put through a good many machines before it comes out in buttons ready for the card. A man with a cylinder saw cuts disks from it the way a cook cuts biscuits. He takes the best spots for his big blanks, then tosses the shell into a basket. The next man takes it and cuts smaller blanks wherever a space has been left, and then throws away the scraps. The round blanks go to grinding machinery where the dull rough back is ground off, leaving the pearl.

The half finished blanks are shaped and drilled in a series of lathes and are colored and polished in a tumbler. Girls sort them into firsts, seconds and thirds, and sew them on cards. A good deal of the carding will probably be done outside of the factory, these buttons being sent out in gross boxes.

THE NAVY ESTIMATES

New York Sun.—The aggregate of the calls made by the navy bureau for the next fiscal year foretold a larger naval appropriation than has ever yet been made for peace times. The amount is $47,065,485.58, and it is doubtful whether Secretary Long's pruning knife will get them below $40,000,000, especially since no provision is made in them for establishing coaling stations in Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Ladrones, and the Philippines, and to this need the secretary will have to call the attention of congress.

It should be observed, however, that a part of the estimates may be traced to the war. The navy department laid out its work for vigorous operations, no matter how long the struggle might last, and it made contracts for labor and material. Even now the war technically continues, the final peace treaty not yet having been agreed upon.

Again, the additional ships to be built amount to over $10,000,000 of the new estimates. Our relations with Spain caused congress at the last session to pass an extraordinary bill for this increase, including three battleships, four monitors and twenty-eight torpedo boats. Then there is an extra item of over $2,000,000 for the reconstruction of the naval academy buildings. There is a much larger enlisted personnel, too, in the navy than there was a year or two ago.

The fact is that hereafter our naval peace budget must regularly be larger than it has been heretofore. We have entered upon a policy of expansion. Our hands have been stretched out to the islands of the sea, fulfilling Edward Everett's eloquent forecast, and that very fact implies a larger navy in commission. We have also added variety to our naval establishment, maintaining hospital ships, distilling ships, marine transports, floating repair shops, and so on. Convinced by this year's experience of the enormous importance of sea power for overthrowing foreign enemies and for preserving our own coasts in safety and tranquility, the American people will never be willing to have their naval strength diminished, but will rather augment it steadily with the growth of the country.

We shall confidently look, therefore,
for great liberality on the part of congress in the appropriation of the coming session.

Racine Journal.—There is not much need of preaching to republicans that they must be loyal to their party. This they will surely be. There is no lack of harmony much as some of the opposition would like to have believe. Republicans are united and understand the necessity of standing by the colors until the last gun of the campaign has been fired. The democratic party with its head carefully concealed in the mass of verbiage and corruption of the Chicago platform, sticks out its full body in the full glare of publicity and imagines the clear people don't see it, but they certainly do perceive the strange accoutrement of political animal and are on the lookout for it.

If the democrats had such a holy horror of the "doodle book" why did they run one through all their administrations? When the republicans came into power one of the democratic "doodlers" was in so deep that the republican administration had to keep him until he worked out his indebtedness.

The "doodle book" was given to the republicans by the democrats, but Gov.

Scott put a stop to its use. There is no
"doodle book" at Madison now, but the democrats always had one when they were in power.

Notwithstanding the fact that Uncle Sam raised a big army, composed of almost entirely of volunteers, and fought and won a war in a few months, the total morality of the war with Spain,

from bullets and disease, up to October 3, is shown by the official records of the Adjutant General to be less than 3,000.
Shocking mismanagement was it?

E. W. Chafin, the prohibition candidate for governor, criticizes the republican platform because it declares in favor of respecting "the rights of others." What is the matter with Mr. Chafin? Does he think prohibitionists are the only people who have rights?

The suggestion that Admiral Dewey be honored with the title of vice admiral, and kept in the navy ten years beyond the retiring age, is a good one. Uncle Sam should give Dewey the best there is,
and keep him in the service as long as possible.

Cast thy bread upon the waters and it will return after many days. Twelve thousand Spanish Mauser rifles—made by the Remington Arms Co., of Ilion, N. Y.—are now stored in Uncle Sam's arsenal at Springfield, Mass.

When there comes an unpleasant hitch in the negotiations, the American Evacuation commission probably "Remember the Maine"—and also what happened to the gallant ship while it was in Havana harbor on an equally peaceful mission.

The Madison Journal thinks that while this talk of investigating the war is going on, wouldn't it be a good idea to investigate the war correspondents.
They have made more trouble than most anybody else!

The announcement is sent out from the French capital that Emile Zola is now living in Paris. This, however, is only the polite way the French have of telling the world that M. Zola has not yet been assassinated.

Strange, isn't it, that gory stories of that Indian uprising continued to flow out over the wires despite the fact that the newspaper correspondents had "turned up missing."

The emperor of China has died so many times of late that the newspapers are now keeping his obituary in type, ready for use at an instant's notice.

A New Jersey man got $7,500 for the loss of three fingers. Three of a kind are not always good for the amount however.

If the finished use of "the glad hand" commands votes, Candidate Chafin will certainly get a few, at least.

The best people—those who always want the best and purest goods money can buy—are unanimous in their praise of "T. & T." brand of coffee.

Arabs Value Water.

No one can travel among the Arabs without being struck by the importance attached to the water supply.

Where a rich Englishman would bequeath money to founding a hospital or decorating a church, an Arab can think of no other channel for his charity than the construction of a fountain which will assure him the blessings of all future generations. The Arabs have a curious characteristic in common with horses and other animals. They prefer stagnant water, however bad in smell and appearance,

to the most limpid running water, which, they assert, generally contains disagreeable medicinal properties.

MOURNS A COMRADE WHO DIED A HERO

FRIEND OF MAJOR WILKINSON
HERE.

Captain H. G. Brigham, of Chicago, who during the civil war, was a member of the 107th New York, was in Janesville today and learned for the first time of the death of his personal friend, Major Wilkinson, who was killed by the Pillager tribe of Indians, Wednesday, at Leech Lake, reservation, Minnesota.

Capt. Brigham was much affected by the news which was first conveyed to him through the newspapers. Captain Brigham has been traveling through this section of the state for many years in the interest of a wholesale soap firm. To a Gazette man this morning he said:

"For many years I have known Major Wilkinson. He was a true soldier. He was a good natured fellow, always supplied with good jokes for the boys. When the civil war broke out he was in a company of the 107th New York and as I was also a member of this same company we naturally saw a great deal of each other. Before the war came to an end Major Wilkinson left the field and returned to Washington where he was assigned to special duty. He was steadily advanced, being stationed at Fort Snelling near St. Paul. For the past fifteen years he has been there. That he should have met death at the hands of Indians seems indeed a cruel fate. I was in St. Paul just four weeks ago, and while there I had a long talk with Major Wilkinson who then said that he had only had one more year of service the army and that it was his intention to spend the remaining days of his life on his California ranch where his wife now resides. Besides a wife I believe he leaves a son and a daughter."

Brevet For Bravery.
It was only two years ago that Captain Wilkinson was given his brevet of major for gallant meritorious conduct among the Indians in the Nez Percés and Bannock campaigns of 1877 and 1878. His career as a soldier was an enviable one. The great war of the rebellion and the battles with the redskins of the west have turned up no braver or more dutiful soldier or officer. Major Wilkinson was born in Elmira, N. Y., where his father was a Methodist clergyman.

Major Wilkinson knew the Indian character as thoroughly as any man in America. He was one of those officers who are known distinctively as "Indian fighters" and he met his death while urging the men under him to stoop low while he himself stood straight up under the fire. His conduct was just what his friends would expect of him. His regiment was stationed at Fort Snelling for two years and was dispatched to Santiago at the opening of the war, but he was left at the fort on recruiting service. He was over 60 years old. His family is at Redlands, near San Bernardino, Cal., where he had for two years been building an orange farm with a view to spending his closing years there.

ABOUT NOMINATION PAPERS

They Must be Filed at Madison More Promptly.

Assistant Secretary of State G. E. Vandercook says that many of the nominees for state, legislative and congressional offices are dangerously slow in filing their nomination papers, and run the risk of violating the law, as well as making it difficult for the department to get the official ballots printed in time. The officials of the department ask that all nominees send in their nomination papers as early as possible, in order that the work of the department may be facilitated.

BEYOND THE CARES OF EARTH

Thomas Fox

Thomas Fox died this morning at 10:35 o'clock at his home, No. 8 Gold street. His death was the result of stomach trouble he having been a patient sufferer for the past year. Mr. Fox was sixty-six years of age and had resided in this city since 1865. He took part in the rebellion and for two years was a member of Co. H, Eagle Regiment Wisconsin Volunteers. A widow and four daughters, Miss Kate Fox, of Milwaukee; Mrs. O. F. Schicker, Mrs. F. Hennessey and Miss Winifred Fox, of this city; and two sons, James M. Fox, of Milwaukee; and Thomas Fox, of this city, are left to mourn his death.

The interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

You Desire Good Health

There is no doubt that every sick person wants to get well. Nobody wants to be weak and ailing, for the feeling that comes from vigor and vitality is splendid. Nevertheless, a great many sick people neglect to take advantage of the chance to get well that comes in their way. Here, however, is a golden opportunity that no sick person can afford to miss. Dr. Greene, 148 State St., Chicago, Ill., the great specialist who cures so many, offers to give the sick advice by mail, free. This is a grand opportunity. Don't delay in taking advantage of it. You desire good health. Here is the chance to get it.

Our large ad has some good things worth reading this evening. Sanborn.

C. J. JONES BUILDING A NEW WAREHOUSE

WORK ON THE FOUNDATION IS BEGUN.

Will Be Located Near His Residence on South Main Street—The Curing Season Still Continues Favorable and the Leaf Is of Good Quality.

Another leaf tobacco warehouse is now in course of erection in this city. C. J. Jones is the builder, and the foundation for the building is already well under way.

The structure will be located in the rear of the residence property owned by Mr. Jones on South Main street. When completed it will be a model building supplied with the most modern sorting, packing and storing apartments.

A. N. Jones was busy loading six cars of leaf for shipment east, today.

The curing season still continues favorable for the hanging tobacco and much of the earliest shedded is about cured out, giving promise of something very desirable in the way of good binders and wrappers. We hardly think it can be denied that there is a goodly percent of wrappers in the '98 crop. The buying of the '98 crop has been begun in Vernon and Dane counties in a small way. Although we do not think buying will become general probably a few of the best crops will be picked up each week. The market opens at about the same prices as prevailed at the opening last year.

In the warehouse business not very brisk although there is an unusual call for good binders. Old fillers are also in good demand. The '97 samples are in good demand and business in those goods will doubtless soon be very good.

DILLON COMES TOMORROW

Famous Old Comedian to Appear at Myers Grand.

Daily Republican, Emporia, Kansas, Wednesday, Feb. 16th, 1898, says of John Dillon: Many persons went to see John Dillon last night with the expectation of seeing an actor whose greatness was all in the past. Such were agreeably disappointed. The John Dillon who appeared as Uncle Jolly last evening in "Bartlett's Road to Seltzerville" was a very up-to-date, jolly and well preserved John Dillon who has yet a great many years of successful acting before him. If John Dillon has seen better days, which some of his friends dispute he has many good days to see yet. If not the greatest comedian now playing, he is at any rate far from the least. The play was a comedy brim full of comical situations and laughable incidents. The support was all that might be wished, every part being played with merit. John Dillon made a hit in Emporia and theatre-goers would gladly welcome him again in "Bartlett's Road to Seltzerville."

Mr. Dillon presents this comedy at the Myers Grand Opera house Saturday evening, Oct. 8th.

HENRY KERL GETTING WELL

Will Soon Be Able to Be Out and Around Again

Remarkable indeed is the recovery of Henry Kerl, of this city, who was terribly injured by being struck down by a team of horses in this city a few weeks ago. Kerl's skull was not only fractured, but the injury was such as to allow a portion of his brain to ooze out. Dr. J. F. Pember, who is the attending physician, says that Kerl is on the road to recovery and that he will be able to be about before many days. The injured lad resides on Park avenue.

MAY BUILD BRIDGE AT RACINE STREET

PLAN RECOMMENDS ITSELF TO MANY.

Farmers Could Dodge the Street Cars, and It Would Be a Convenience in Many Ways—The Water Company Will Donate Lease of a Lot—Cost To Be Light.

A new bridge is likely to span Rock river before much time elapses. The plan is to cross the river at Racine street. This street runs to the river on the east side, which would give the approach to the structure. The property on the opposite side of the river is owned by the Janesville Water Co., but the company will donate a ninety-nine year lease to the city of sufficient land to give an approach from River and Galena streets.

A bridge at this point would undoubtedly be a great convenience to many people and would not cost much. It would also be of value, it is argued to the fire department. The aldermen have looked the ground over and several of them are said to favor the plan.

The bridge would undoubtedly be of value to many farmers, as they could then get across the river without having to pass along the street car line on South Main street to Court street.

L. S. HILLABRANDT,

OUR CONDITIONS OF PEACE.

Spain Must Cede Luzon and Free Other Islands.

OUR COMMISSIONERS ARE FIRM

Spaniards Are Willing to Cede Manila and One Island for a Coaling Station, but Object to the Surrender of All Her Philippine Possessions.

Paris, Oct. 7.—It is pretty generally believed that the first battle of the peace commission will be fought today.

Although the members themselves profess perfect satisfaction with matters so far as they have so far progressed, a certain amount of iniquity is plainly discernible on the Spanish side. This appears to be undoubtedly due to the firmness of the Americans.

Report has it that the United States intends to solve the Philippine difficulty by insisting upon the session of the whole island of Luzon and upon the absolute independence of the rest of the archipelago.

This is said to have been a hard blow for the Spanish commissioners.

From the few details that have leaked out it seems that Spain hoped to deal with the Philippines upon the basis established in the protocol—that is, the cession of Manila and one island for a coaling station. Now, as Manila is the key to the Philippines, the archipelago would virtually be under control of the power holding it—that is to say, the United States. Spain, therefore, has no very keen desire to keep the islands under such circumstances, but at the same time it hoped to sell them as dearly as possible.

This hope is being shattered if it is true that America, while retaining Luzon, the most important island in the group, will insist at the same time upon the entire independence of the other islands.

It is said that the Spanish commissioners have received very definite instructions to refuse their agreement to the cession of the island of Luzon unless the United States will assume the entire Philippine debt.

As to the independence of the other islands, the commissioners are, it appears, to refuse even to consider it.

EPISCOPALIAN HOUSES DIFFER.

Bishops Adopt and Deputies Reject Two Constitutional Amendments.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The triennial convention of the Episcopal church Thursday disposed of two proposed amendments to the constitution of the church which had been indorsed by the last previous convention.

The first of these amendments proposed to officially designate the Protestant Episcopal church as a "portion of the Catholic church." It was defeated in the house of deputies by 103 nays to 3 yeas. The other amendment proposed to substitute Article 1 for Articles 1, 2 and 3 of the old constitution. This was also defeated by the deputies by 92 yeas to 17 nays.

The house of bishops adopted both of these amendments, but the deputies refused to concur.

New Postal Order Formed.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 7.—About forty men postmasters of first-class offices or representatives of the postmasters in those cities met in convention for the first time here Thursday. They formed a permanent organization, electing officers as follows: President, E. B. Dickerson, Detroit; vice president, W. E. Hull, Peoria, Ill.; secretary and treasurer, Thomas G. Lawler, Rockford, Ill. An executive committee and committees to draw up by-laws and resolutions are to be appointed by the president. Much Georgia Cotton Ruined.

Peace Negotiations Go On.

Paris, Oct. 7.—The rumors which have been sent abroad of the probable interruption of the peace negotiations are unfounded. The relations of the Spanish and American commissioners are of the most friendly character.

TO QUIET VIRDEN MINERS.

Outside Strikers Patrolling the Town Are to Be Scattered.

Carlinville, Ill., Oct. 7.—Gov. Tanner is evincing an active interest in the mining complications at Virden. Two thousand miners from the surrounding country have been patrolling the town for two days and nights. All suspected persons are summarily driven from town. The sheriff has acknowledged himself unable to cope with the situation. Gov. Tanner notified him to order the men to leave the city and to disarm them at every opportunity.

The governor declared he would come to Virden in person if the sheriff deemed it necessary. He ordered the sheriff to go into the country districts and deputize farmers to assist in preserving the peace. Virden's mayor has ordered every saloon in the city closed.

Plan to Improve Cotton Trade.

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 7.—The manufacturers' committee which has been deliberating for weeks for some plan to improve the cotton goods situation, which has resulted in a loss to most mills for more than two years, has evolved a plan which is being circulated, for signatures among the agents. Secrecy is maintained, but it is learned that the plan places the disposal of the standard production of goods in the hands of a committee, with full power to sell it at such times and prices as is deemed best. The plan also provides for a four weeks' curtailment in the near future. It is believed that the plan will receive general approval.

The Chinese ministers say the presence here of the foreign soldiers is likely to exasperate the Peking populace, which is now quiet.

NOTICED THIS BEFORE

You Probably Have and May Have Spoken About It.

The reader of this newspaper if he takes the time and trouble to look carefully through its columns, will probably find half a dozen statements tacked on to the foot of reading notices about proprietary articles. Note this fact. In each and every instance as far as Janesville is concerned, as far as the reader's knowledge of the party is concerned he might just as well live in the moon. Make another note of this.

The only remedy on the market which gives testimony at home, local proof in every town and city in the Union, to back up its claims, is Doan's Kidney Pills. They all try it but they cannot do it. Why they are unable to do it can safely be left with the reader to draw his own conclusions. Here is Janesville proof for Janesville readers.

Mr. Geo. Pratt, of 261 S. Main St., salesman at Brown Bros. Shoe store, says: "I feel that I can guarantee Doan's Kidney Pills for curing kidney complaint. I was subject to it for several years, had a doctor treat me for quite awhile, and as long as I took the medicine I was helped, but as soon as I quit the trouble returned. I took other remedies, but without being benefited. Finally learning about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured them at the Janesville Co's. drug store and took them. They cured me. My symptoms were mostly backache, the kidney secretions contained sediment and were too frequent in action. You are welcome to use my name as one who recommends Doan's Kidney Pills, and I shall be glad to speak a good word for them at all times."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

WANTED TROUSERS.

BUT HE HAD A HARD TIME MAKING HIMSELF UNDERSTOOD.

If He Had Been In Any of the Old States, It Would Have Been Easy, but in the New State of Porto Rico It Was Not.

MAYAGUEZ, Porto Rico, U. S. A.—It became necessary yesterday that I should seek another habitation than the trousers I wore. After three weeks of hard horseback riding they simply were untenable, that's all, and I had to move. I don't rise very high in the saddle—just high enough.

Usually in this country when a soldier buys anything, after vainly trying to explain, he seizes the cherished object and runs away with it, with the storekeeper and the whole provost guard after him. But I wouldn't do anything like that. Besides, I had on those careworn trousers and couldn't run backward very fast.

Now, the last thing in the world a Porto Rican merchant thinks of is to sell goods. The weather is too important, the cigarette too good, the brandy too old and the senorita across the way too pretty, so I approached the subject cautiously, sidling along the counter in maneuvers so clever that neither he nor the assembled populace could get my range.

"Buenos dias?" he said, not opening his eyes.

"Buenos Ayres," I responded. I pride myself on my pure Castilian.

He shivered slightly and opened his one eye.

"Una camisa?" he said.

"Pocahontas," I answered. There is nothing like rubbing it in on these illiterate people once you get a good hold on the Spanish language.

"Civro?" he said. "Calzancillos?"

"No," I responded. "Timbuktu, Cingalese."

Both of his eyes were open by this time, and he carefully rolled two cigarettes, one for himself and the other for himself, while I treated myself to a cigar.

"Mojado," he ventured, "muchas agua."

"Si, senor, Broncho, Himalaya, Nevada."

We were getting along famously, but he seemed uneasy and went out to consult a friend. This is usually the point where the soldiers grab the desired object and run. But I wouldn't do anything like that. There weren't any trousers in sight.

They soon returned and regarded me strangely.

"Baudera?" said the proprietor.

"Sierra, Pocahontas, Indiana," I smilingly answered.

The two men fell into each other's arms, then disappeared around the corner for half an hour, evidently hoping I would steal what I wanted and go away. Returning and plainly disappointed at finding me still in the store, they invited me by signs to join them in a glass of brandy, for which I paid in Porto Rican style.

After another half hour's intelligent conversation I saw another invitation to drink at my expense was imminent and became desperate.

"Oh, thou hound," I exclaimed, "descendant of the squat and subtle Moor; thou descendant of the lordly and original Carib, guano, comprehendo, observo!" and I majestically revolved, exposing to his full view the rent bosom of my trousers.

"Why in thunder didn't you say you wanted pants?" he said.

"I don't see why they treat that poet with such distinguished consideration."

"Poet! Who said he was a poet?"

"Why, I heard some one speak of him as being the author of a few lines."

"Yes, railroad lines."
